INDIO SURFBOARDS ENDURANCE MIGGY STRIPES

Just think about some questions before you keep reading:

How do you feel about mini-malibus and round-nose surfboards? Like them but you are getting tired of them now? Maybe you are a surfer that has your mind on getting better at it and you are ready to take the next step? Want to feel a shortboard kind of feeling? Yes, this may interest you too if you are a cool mommy/daddy or granny/gradpa that knows how to rip but your shape is not its best at the moment.

If you find yourself in one of these three situations, we bring you your best fit: The Indio MIGGY. A shortboard yes, but a very special one. It is a BIG shortboard, meaning it offers all the basics to be an awesome performer: high buoyancy, paddle power and great looks.

You can confidently control the basic turns. Paddling out alone in your spot and riding waves till the end is no secret for you. Referring to the MIGGY's performance abilities, tied to the surfers of course, its design won't let you down. Why? Because its shape is one developed through many years of know-how collected by making surfboards that deliver an easy and sharp surfing experience.

Review all that we talked about the MIGGY up until now and there is a clear result about getting or adding this surfboard to your quiver: you will stand out amongst your buddies and have tons of fun too!
